

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

ANDREW AVILA,

Plaintiff,

v.

FELDER, et al.,

Defendants.

No. 1:21-cv-01510-JLT-BAM (PC)

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
REGARDING DISMISSAL OF ACTION

(ECF No. 14)

FOURTEEN (14) DAY DEADLINE

Plaintiff Andrew Avila is a state prisoner proceeding pro se in this civil rights action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The Court screened Plaintiff's complaint and granted leave to amend. Plaintiff's first amended complaint, filed on January 26, 2022, is currently before the Court for screening. (Doc. 14.)

I. Screening Requirement and Standard

The Court is required to screen complaints brought by prisoners seeking relief against a governmental entity and/or against an officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). Plaintiff's complaint, or any portion thereof, is subject to dismissal if it is frivolous or malicious, if it fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or if it seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915A(b).

A complaint must contain "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief . . ." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). Detailed factual allegations are not required, but "[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)). While a plaintiff's allegations are taken as

1 true, courts “are not required to indulge unwarranted inferences.” Doe I v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 2 572 F.3d 677, 681 (9th Cir. 2009) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).

3 To survive screening, Plaintiff’s claims must be facially plausible, which requires 4 sufficient factual detail to allow the Court to reasonably infer that each named defendant is liable 5 for the misconduct alleged. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (quotation marks omitted); Moss v. U.S. Secret
6 Serv., 572 F.3d 962, 969 (9th Cir. 2009). The sheer possibility that a defendant acted unlawfully 7 is not sufficient, and mere consistency with liability falls short of satisfying the plausibility 8 standard. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (quotation marks omitted); Moss, 572 F.3d at 969.

9 II. Plaintiff’s Allegations

10 Plaintiff is currently housed at the Kern Valley State Prison (“KVSP”), in Delano, 11 California, where the events in the complaint are alleged to have occurred. Plaintiff names 12 Michael A. Felder, C.E.O., CCHS at Kern Valley State Prison as the sole defendant.

13 Plaintiff alleges deliberate indifference to serious medical need. In 2019, Plaintiff 14 submitted a medical form for right eye pain. The policy is to see patients for treatment within 72 15 hours. Plaintiff saw Defendant Felder for the eye pain and said his eye hurts really bad, was not 16 able to see, and his head hurt behind his right eye. Plaintiff said that when he uses the toilet, his 17 right eye hurts when he strains, and he cannot see the toilet paper. CDCR medical policy states 18 that during an emergency, a medical supervisor shall send the patient to the hospital right away.
19 Dr. Felder read Plaintiff’s chart and did nothing but prescribe medication. The medication causes 20 an allergic reaction in the right eye.

21 Plaintiff filed an appeal that he could not see. Plaintiff saw “Doctor Michel A. Felder 22 several times for several days and the defendant being in charge per medical policy has to sign an 23 emergency outpatient order. He refused to do so for a year.” Plaintiff lost his right eye vision 24 permanently which could have been avoided if Defendant would have done his job.

25 As remedies, Plaintiff seek a preliminary injunction not to deny emergency medical 26 attention, declaratory relief and compensatory and punitive damages

1 III. Discussion

2 Plaintiff's complaint fails to comply with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8 and fails to 3 state a cognizable claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Despite being provided the relevant legal and 4 pleading standards, Plaintiff has been unable to cure the deficiencies.

5 A. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8

6 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8, a complaint must contain "a short and plain 7 statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a). Detailed 8 factual allegations are not required, but "[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, 9 supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (citation 10 omitted). Plaintiff must set forth "sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to 11 relief that is plausible on its face.'" Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570, 12 127 S.Ct. at 1974). While factual allegations are accepted as true, legal conclusions are not. Id.; 13 see also Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556–557.

14 Although Plaintiff's complaint is short, it is not a plain statement of his claims. As a basic 15 matter, the complaint does not clearly state what happened, when it happened or who was 16 involved. Plaintiff's allegations must be based on facts as to what happened and not conclusions.
17 Plaintiff has been unable to cure this deficiency. Fed. R. Civ. P. 8.

18 B. Eighth Amendment - Deliberate Indifference to Serious Medical Need 19 Plaintiff alleges a claim for deliberate indifference to a serious medical need.

20 To allege a claim of deliberate indifference, plaintiff must show he had a serious medical 21 need and defendants were deliberately indifferent to that need. A medical need is serious "if the 22 failure to treat the prisoner's condition could result in further significant injury or the 23 'unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain.' " McGuckin v. Smith, 974 F.2d 1050, 1059 (9th Cir.
24 1992), overruled on other grounds by WMX Techs., Inc. v. Miller, 104 F.3d 1133 (9th Cir. 1997) 25 (en banc). Indications of a serious medical need include "the presence of a medical condition that 26 significantly affects an individual's daily activities." Id. at 1059-60. By establishing the existence 27 of a serious medical need, a prisoner satisfies the objective requirement for proving an Eighth 28 Amendment violation. Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 834 (1994).

1 Here, Plaintiff alleges a serious medical need. He alleges pain and eye problems which 2 resulted in the loss of vision.

3 Deliberate indifference is established only where the defendant subjectively “knows of 4 and disregards an excessive risk to inmate health and safety.” Toguchi v. Chung, 391 F.3d 1051, 5 1057 (9th Cir. 2004) (emphasis added) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted). Deliberate 6 indifference can be established “by showing (a) a purposeful act or failure to respond to a 7 prisoner’s pain or possible medical need and (b) harm caused by the indifference.” Jett v. Penner, 8 439 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2006) (citation omitted). Civil recklessness (failure “to act in the 9 face of an unjustifiably high risk of harm that is either known or so obvious that it should be 10 known”) is insufficient to establish an Eighth Amendment violation. Farmer v. Brennan, 511 11 U.S. 825, 836-37 & n.5 (1994) (citations omitted).

12 A difference of opinion between an inmate and prison medical personnel—or between 13 medical professionals—regarding appropriate medical diagnosis and treatment is not enough to 14 establish a deliberate indifference claim. Sanchez v. Vild, 891 F.2d 240, 242 (9th Cir. 1989); 15 Toguchi v. Chung, 391 F.3d 1051, 1058 (9th Cir. 2004). Additionally, “a complaint that a 16 physician has been negligent in diagnosing or treating a medical condition does not state a valid 17 claim of medical mistreatment under the Eighth Amendment. Medical malpractice does not 18 become a constitutional violation merely because the victim is a prisoner.” Estelle, 429 U.S. at 19 106. To establish a difference of opinion rising to the level of deliberate indifference, a “plaintiff 20 must show that the course of treatment the doctors chose was medically unacceptable under the 21 circumstances.” Jackson v. McIntosh, 90 F.3d 330, 332 (9th Cir. 1996).

22 In applying this standard, the Ninth Circuit has held that before it can be said that a 23 prisoner’s civil rights have been abridged, “the indifference to his medical needs must be 24 substantial. Mere ‘indifference,’ ‘negligence,’ or ‘medical malpractice’ will not support this cause 25 of action.” Broughton v. Cutter Labs., 622 F.2d 458, 460 (9th Cir. 1980) (citing Estelle v.
26 Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 105–06 (1976)). Even gross negligence is insufficient to establish 27 deliberate indifference to serious medical needs. See Wood v. Housewright, 900 F.2d 1332, 1334 28 (9th Cir. 1990).

1 Plaintiff alleges he saw Dr. Felder who read Plaintiff's chart and did nothing but prescribe 2 medication. Here, Dr. Felder did not fail to treat Plaintiff, and Plaintiff's disagreement that he 3 should have been sent to the emergency room is a difference of opinion with a medical 4 professional. Indeed, in Plaintiff's original complaint, Plaintiff alleged a variety of medical 5 treatments he received, which Plaintiff now does not reallege in his first amended complaint. In 6 the original complaint, Plaintiff alleged that when Plaintiff complained of eye pain, he was seen 7 by a nurse, his treating physician, and an ophthalmologist. He was given medication to treat pain, 8 inflammation in the eyes, and to prevent bacterial eye infections. He was given a fluorescein 9 angiography to test for eye disorders. A prior pleading may be superseded as a pleading, but the 10 prior pleading may be admissible in evidence against the pleader; e.g., as an admission or prior 11 inconsistent statement by the pleader: "The amendment of a pleading does not make it any the 12 less an admission of the party." Andrews v. Metro North Commuter R.R. Co., 882 F.2d 705, 707 13 (2nd Cir.1989); see also White v. ARCO/Polymers, Inc., 720 F.2d 1391, 1396, fn. 5 (5th 14 Cir.1983); Robinson v. Salazar, 885 F. Supp. 2d 1002, 1025 (E.D. Cal. 2012) (the prior pleadings 15 are not irrelevant), aff'd sub nom. Robinson v. Jewell, 790 F.3d 910 (9th Cir. 2015). Plaintiff 16 claims that the medication caused an allergic reaction in the right eye, but there is no allegation 17 that Plaintiff informed Dr. Felder of the reaction and that Dr. Felder then failed to act. A 18 prisoner's mere disagreement with diagnosis or treatment does not support a claim of deliberate 19 indifference. Sanchez v. Vild, 891 F.2d 240, 242 (9th Cir. 1989).

20 C. State Regulations

21 Plaintiff alleges violations of various prison regulations for responding to medical 22 emergencies. However, § 1983 only provides a cause of action for the deprivation of federally 23 protected rights. "To the extent that the violation of a state law amounts to the deprivation of a 24 state-created interest that reaches beyond that guaranteed by the federal Constitution, [s]ection 25 1983 offers no redress." Sweaney v. Ada County, Idaho, 119 F.3d 1385, 1391 (9th Cir. 1997) 26 (quoting Lovell v. Poway Unified Sch. Dist., 90 F.3d 367, 370 (9th Cir. 1996)); see Davis v.
 27 Kissinger, No. CIV S-04-0878-GEB-DAD-P, 2009 WL 256574, at *12 n. 4 (E.D. Cal. Feb. 3, 28 2009). Nor is there any liability under § 1983 for violating prison policy. Cousins v. Lockyer, 568

1 F.3d 1063, 1070 (9th Cir. 2009) (quoting Gardner v. Howard, 109 F.3d 427, 430 (8th Cir. 1997)).
2 Lipscomb v. Olivas, No. 1:21-CV-01127 BAM PC, 2021 WL 4318029, at *5 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 23, 3 2021) (the violation of any state law or regulation that reaches beyond the rights protected by the 4 federal Constitution and/or the violation of any prison regulation, rule or policy does not amount 5 to a cognizable claim under federal law, nor does it amount to any independent cause of action 6 under § 1983). Thus, the violation of any state law or regulation that reaches beyond the rights 7 protected by the federal Constitution and is not cognizable under § 1983.

8 D. Injunctive Relief

9 Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief in this action. Federal courts are courts of limited 10 jurisdiction and in considering a request for injunctive relief, the Court is bound by the 11 requirement that as a preliminary matter, it have before it an actual case or controversy. City of 12 Los Angeles v. Lyons, 461 U.S. 95, 102 (1983); Valley Forge Christian Coll. v. Ams. United for 13 Separation of Church and State, Inc., 454 U.S. 464, 471 (1982). If the Court does not have an 14 actual case or controversy before it, it has no power to hear the matter in question. Id.

15 Further, requests for prospective relief are further limited by 18 U.S.C. § 3626(a)(1)(A) of 16 the Prison Litigation Reform Act [“PLRA”], which requires that the Court find the “relief 17 [sought] is narrowly drawn, extends no further than necessary to correct the violation of the 18 Federal right, and is the least intrusive means necessary to correct the violation of the Federal 19 right.” In cases brought by prisoners involving conditions of confinement, any injunction “must 20 be narrowly drawn, extend no further than necessary to correct the harm the court finds requires 21 preliminary relief, and be the least intrusive means necessary to correct the harm.” 18 U.S.C. § 22 3626(a)(2). Moreover, where, as here, “a plaintiff seeks a mandatory preliminary injunction that 23 goes beyond maintaining the status quo pendente lite, ‘courts should be extremely cautious’ about 24 issuing a preliminary injunction and should not grant such relief unless the facts and law clearly 25 favor the plaintiff.” Committee of Central American Refugees v. I.N.S., 795 F.2d 1434, 1441 (9th 26 Cir. 1986), quoting Martin v. International Olympic Committee, 740 F.2d 670, 675 (9th Cir.
27 1984).

28 The injunctive relief Plaintiff is seeking may go beyond what would be allowed under the 1 PLRA as it is not narrowly tailored to address the violations of the rights at issue in this action 2 and is too ambiguous and vague. Caribbean Marine Servs. Co., Inc. v. Baldridge, 844 F.2d 668, 3 674-75 (9th Cir. 1988). Therefore, the Court cannot grant broad requests for relief or requests 4 based on the possibility of an injury.

5 E. Declaratory Relief

6 To the extent Plaintiff's complaint seeks a declaratory judgment, it is unnecessary. "A 7 declaratory judgment, like other forms of equitable relief, should be granted only as a matter of 8 judicial discretion, exercised in the public interest." Eccles v. Peoples Bank of Lakewood Village, 9 333 U.S. 426, 431 (1948). "Declaratory relief should be denied when it will neither serve a useful 10 purpose in clarifying and settling the legal relations in issue nor terminate the proceedings and 11 afford relief from the uncertainty and controversy faced by the parties." United States v.
12 Washington, 759 F.2d 1353, 1357 (9th Cir. 1985). A declaration that any defendant violated 13 Plaintiff's rights is unnecessary.

14 IV. Conclusion and Order

15 For the reasons stated, Plaintiff's first amended complaint fails to state a cognizable claim 16 for relief. Despite being provided with the relevant pleading and legal standards, Plaintiff has 17 been unable to cure the deficiencies in his complaint by amendment, and thus further leave to 18 amend is not warranted. Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1130 (9th Cir. 2000).

19 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY RECOMMENDED that this action be dismissed, with 20 prejudice, for failure to state a cognizable claim upon which relief may be granted.

21 These Findings and Recommendation will be submitted to the United States District Judge 22 assigned to the case, pursuant to the provisions of Title 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). Within fourteen 23 (14) days after being served with these Findings and Recommendation, Plaintiff may file written
25
26
27
28

1 objections with the Court. The document should be captioned “Objections to Magistrate Judge’s 2 Findings and Recommendation.” Plaintiff is advised that failure to file objections within the 3 specified time may result in the waiver of the “right to challenge the magistrate’s factual 4 findings” on appeal. Wilkerson v. Wheeler, 772 F.3d 834, 839 (9th Cir. 2014) (citing Baxter v.
5 Sullivan, 923 F.2d 1391, 1394 (9th Cir. 1991)).
